National Railroad Strike Authorized by Vote of Unions

However Actual Strike Cannot Take Place for Two Months

Chicago, Sept. 5—(AP)—Mediation of the wage dispute between the nation's major railroads and their 1,250,000 employees ended in failure today, less than three hours after the employees had given a general strike authorization to their 19 unions.

In announcing that attempts to reach an amicable settlement of the dispute had ended, the National Railway Mediation Board disclosed that an offer of arbitration had been rejected by the unions.

This brings the controversy to President Roosevelt, who has the authority to appoint an emergency fact finding board. No strike may be put into effect until at least 30 days after this board has made its report.

The five big operating brotherhoods stand adamant for a 30 per cent increase in the basic rates of pay. Fourteen non-operating unions want increases which will boost the wages of their members from 30 to 34 cents an hour. The non-operating unions, embracing approximately 900,000 workers, have set Sept. 11 as the date for a strike. The operating brotherhoods planned to set their date within three or four days.

After reciting the history of attempts to settle the dispute, the mediation board's statement said in part:

Board's Statement
"It developed yesterday that mediation, in the judgment of the board, was no longer helpful. As a consequence, under the law, the board requested the parties to enter into agreements to arbitrate their differences. The board was unable to bring the parties into agreement to arbitrate."

The board announced that it would not notify the president of the abandonment of mediation efforts until after it had received notice of the operating unions' strike date.

Fred G. Gurley, chairman of the carriers' joint conference committee, expressed disappointment at the failure to reach an amicable settlement.

He said that after the mediation board announced its intention of closing its conferences, the railroads expressed a willingness to arbitrate the controversy, but that the unions exercised their right to reject this procedure.

Vote Creates Emergency
The operating unions however, have agreed to further mediation of the carriers' proposals for rule changes after the wage question has been settled, Gurley said, so this phase of the dispute would not be considered by the fact finding board as it applies to the operating unions. The non-operating unions have consistently refused to discuss rule changes, Gurley added.

He asserted that the strike vote was a device of the employees to create an emergency which would cause the president to appoint a fact finding board.

Leaders of the 14 non-operating unions announced that their membership had voted overwhelmingly to walk out and union heads announced that they had set Sept. 11 as the date for a nationwide strike.

The five operating brotherhoods also voted to strike and their leaders said they would announce the strike date within three days. The brotherhoods are asking for a 30 per cent increase while the 14 non-operating unions demand boosts ranging from 30 to 34 cents an hour.

Arbitration Next Step
Arbitration was the next step in the legal machinery set up by the National Railway Labor Act for settlement of the dispute. It was reliably reported, however, that while the railroads would agree to arbitration, the unions would not.

Heads of the non-operating unions with a membership of approximately 900,000 set Sept. 11 as the date for a strike. Officials of the operating groups said that 98.7 of their 350,000 members voted in favor of a strike.

The leaders of the five operating unions reported that preliminary figures on a strike authorization vote showed that out of 287,000 votes cast, 283,429 were for a strike and 3,571 were against.

Alvaney Johnston, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said the operating unions would announce a date for a strike within three days.

Johnston said that the operating unions undoubtedly would reject a proposal to arbitrate the dispute. He added that they

Bargain

Philadelphia, Sept. 5—(AP)—Sixty-five years ago a railroad made a settlement with a 36-year-old passenger who had been injured in a train wreck at Ashabula, O., in which 95 persons were killed. "We'll give you a dollar a day as long as you live," said the railroad adjuster to Harry Ellsworth Bennett, who suffered an injured back and lost an eye.

"That was a pretty good bargain," grinned Bennett upon celebrating his 101st birthday yesterday. "So far I've collected $23,700."

A lifelong vegetarian, he smokes 10 cigars a day, enjoys a daily glass of beer, shoots pool and goes to the baseball game afternoons, then gets in a little poker or rummy in the evening.

Heavy Construction of Pipe Lines Plea of Leon Henderson

Washington, Sept. 5—(AP)—Heavy construction of pipe lines to carry petroleum products to the east was advocated today by Leon Henderson, as the seaboard states looked to rail transportation for a quick, if temporary, solution of their oil and gasoline problems.

"You can't sink a pipe line," said the chief of price administration in testifying before a senate committee that if this country ever should be attacked, pipe lines would be "hole cards" backing up the customary transportation by tankers.

The hope that the eastern emergency might soon be alleviated was based on a pledge by oil industry representatives last night to use every available railroad tank car at once to move oil from the west.

Spokesmen for the railroads said this could eliminate oil shortages within two weeks.

In event of war, Henderson told senators investigating the situation, tankers moving from the gulf to the east coast might require a large and expensive convoy system. He added:

"Demands upon railroad traffic due to the curtailment of inter-coastal shipping and other movements would be almost unbelievable."

Would Consider Increases
Henderson said his office would "give favorable consideration" to increasing the prices of petroleum products if large-scale movements were necessary at materially higher costs.

The price administrator testified that the order curtailing supplies of gasoline to retailers in the east was a safeguard against possible greater shortages next winter.

"Even though the figures show that we might just get by," he said, "I consider it sound business judgment to build up additional stocks against a possible crisis which might occur in December, might not hit until February or might not hit at all."

"The current 10 per cent curtailment in the use of gasoline should increase our storage stocks substantially as contrasted with the amounts which would be on hand if gasoline had not been restricted."

J. J. Peiley, president of the Association of American Railroads, told a senate committee Wednesday that the oil shortage could be ended within two weeks by utilizing all available tank cars. He said there now were 20,000 idle rail tankers capable of moving 200,000 barrels of oil to the east daily. The daily shortage is estimated at 100,000 barrels.

Foreign Invasion

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 5—(AP)—State director of agriculture Howard Leonard said today that Illinois farmers have reported inroads of foreign aggression already discernible in the peaceful pastures of Illinois.

The invader, he said, is the hoary alumnus, a pernicious weed of the mustard family which was brought to the northeastern part of the United States several years ago from Europe.

With the Second Army on the Arkansas-Louisiana border, Sept. 5—(AP)—Crossing the Ouachita river in a mass attack straddling the state line, the Second cavalry today threatened the east flank of the Almat army withdrawing into Louisiana.

Rapid-fire anti-aircraft guns of the 40th coast artillery from Fort Sheridan, Ill., brought into action for the first time, teamed with the Fort Riley, Kas., cavalry units transporting the heavy equipment safely across the river on the El Dorado-Crossett highway in Arkansas.

Held on the east shore for days, the 2nd spread out last night from a spearhead on the border and encircled a suicide company of Nebraska troopers, holding the bridge only river crossing within miles. An Almat counter-attack was broken up by 10 planes in a surprise attack, the first use in the maneuvers of airplanes with horse troops.

Light cavalry swept across foot-bridges on the state line, while the 3rd cavalry brigade, only negro combat unit in the maneuvers, crossed at Sterling, La., on heavy pontoon bridges. The 4th cavalry regiment followed them.

Thus, a strong line was established directly east of the Almat Seventh Corps drawing into a strong position in the Shreveport-Monroe, La., area.

Another Agency in Defense Setup is Answer to Baruch

Successful Director of War Industries Board is Critical

Washington, Sept. 5—(AP)—A new federal agency set out today to enlist even the smallest industrial plants in the national armament manufacturing drive, but one of President Roosevelt's principal advisers repeated his conviction that a single administrator is urgently needed for the whole defense production program.

Bernard M. Baruch, who conquered a similar military production problem 24 years ago, called not only for a single defense chief but for a blanket ceiling on prices. Last night, a few hours after Baruch's blunt criticism, the president announced creation of a division to contract distribution in the Office of Production Management, to be headed by Floyd B. Odum, New York financier.

A White House statement said the new agency was formed to further "a determined move on the part of the administration to help the smaller business units of the country obtain a fair share of the defense orders, and to prevent, so far as possible, dislocation of industry and unemployment of workers in plants where production has been curtailed by priorities and material shortages."

Baruch Speaks Plainly
Tall, white-haired Baruch had no immediate comment on this development. But he was no more than out of the White House door after lunching with the president yesterday when he told reporters in plain words what he thought should be done to speed vital production.

Baruch saw the new seven-member Supply Priorities and Allocations board, headed by Vice President Wallace, as only a "faltering step forward." He expressed the hope it would work, but he asserted:

Back in World War days, when he headed the War Industries Board, Baruch had—and used—the fullest power in throwing the nation's entire productive capacity behind the military effort. So successful was he in marshalling industry that Germany's beaten Marshal von Hindenburg admitted "the war was won in the American industrial centers. They

Assassin's Bullet Kills Journalist

Vichy, Unoccupied France, Sept. 5—(AP)—Marcel Gitton, a prominent communist journalist who had turned against his party, died in a hospital today from an assassin's bullet wound.

He was shot last night by an assailant who escaped.

Gitton was a collaborator on the communist daily L'Humanite and secretary-general of the metal workers union before the war, when he was elected to the chamber of deputies from the Seine department.

He refused to join other communist deputies in signing a letter opposing the war and was not unseated when the chamber voted to oust the signers.

The gun with which Gitton was killed was the same type of weapon as the one Paul Colette fired at Pierre Laval and Marcel Deat and the same as the one in the slaying of Adolphe Rosenthal, well-known broker, in Paris last week. All were French 6.35 revolvers, corresponding to .25 caliber firearms in the United States.

Gitton was nearing his home in outlying Lilas, returning from the Lilas borough hall, when a cyclist, who had been waiting at a curb, opened fire on the 41-year-old former communist leader.

Pravda, the communist party organ, reported these developments.

Other dispatches said both sides were bringing up their big guns for the battle of Leningrad and the Russian communique announced long night fighting on the whole front.

Russia's two other beleaguered big cities—Kiev, the Ukrainian capital on whose approaches the Germans are attempting to attack, and Odessa, the Black sea port which the Rumanians have locked in siege—also were reported strengthening their resistance.

To Fight to Death
Red army troops, Red navy sailors and embattled civilians of Odessa, fulfilling an oath to defend the city "to the last drop of blood," are mowing down Rumanian forces by the thousands.

German Heavy Guns Shelling Leningrad Nazi Command Says

City Apparently Facing Surrender or Warsaw- like Destruction

(By The Associated Press)
Berlin, Sept. 5—Heavy German artillery is shelling Leningrad, the German high command announced today.

Thus Russia's second largest city apparently faces these alternatives—surrender or the Warsaw-like destruction which Germans have warned it will suffer if it resists.

The fuhrer's command war bulletin, indicating that the ring of steel which German and Finnish forces are tightening around Leningrad's approaches has been almost closed, described the situation in these four terse sentences:

"Successful operations on the east front."
"The encirclement of Leningrad is progressing."
"The city itself already is under fire of heavy German artillery."
"Estonia has been freed of the enemy."

Well Within Range
Both the Finnish and the German arms of the huge besieging drive have been reported only about 20 miles from Leningrad—well within the range of Germany's big guns such as those used in the west to blast ships and ports across the English channel.

(The Russians have given every indication that they will defend Leningrad—home of 3,000,000 people—to the last, whatever the cost.)

(Marshal Klementi Voroshilov, to whom Joseph Stalin has entrusted the city's defense, has acknowledged its "dread peril" and raised a civilian people's army to back the Red army. Both armies have taken oaths to die rather than yield.)

REDS COUNTERATTACK
Moscow, Sept. 5—(AP)—Red army units counter-attacking amid artillery fire on the approaches to Leningrad were reported today to have advanced almost a mile to one point in the battle for Russia's second largest city, taking four villages.

The defenses of Leningrad were said to have been bolstered by the arrival of troops from Tallinn, evacuated successfully before the Germans took the Estonian capital. These forces were reported already back in battle against the nazis.

Pravda, the communist party organ, reported these developments.

Other dispatches said both sides were bringing up their big guns for the battle of Leningrad and the Russian communique announced long night fighting on the whole front.

Russia's two other beleaguered big cities—Kiev, the Ukrainian capital on whose approaches the Germans are attempting to attack, and Odessa, the Black sea port which the Rumanians have locked in siege—also were reported strengthening their resistance.

Hospital Benefits Through Purchase of Emblems, Pins

Systematic distribution of 3,000 window and car windshield stickers, to raise additional badly-needed funds for Katherine Shaw Bethea hospital, got underway this afternoon, when supplies of the emblems were made available at the school buildings throughout the city. Girl and Boy Scouts of Dixon, working under the direction of Mrs. W. A. McNichols, Earl Kennedy, and Paul Armstrong, will conduct the sales campaign.

Dixon residents are urged to contribute to the hospital fund by purchasing the emblems. Prizes have been donated by several local merchants for the Scout groups and the individual reporting the most sales. The Girl or Boy Scout, whose sales rank highest, is promised a grand prize, to be awarded by Louella Parsons on Louella Parsons Day, Sept. 15. Miss Parsons will also reward the Scout

Rioting of Women on Strike in St. Louis Results in 35 Arrests

St. Louis, Sept. 5—(AP)—Sixty women pickets engaged in a spirited street battle today with a score of police protecting new employees entering the strike-bound plant of the Garner Pocketbook Manufacturing Company.

The fight, marked by pushing and tearing of clothes, was quelled by the arrest of 35 of the pickets. One of them, Miss Josephine De Filippo, suffered contusion of the stomach in the scuffle and was treated at City Hospital.

The plant, closed Aug. 4 by the strike of the C. I. O. leather workers' union, resumed partial operation Wednesday when its militant woman manager, Mrs. Leah Gardner, personally led 15 new workers through the picket line.

Bearing signs, "120 Gardner Girls Can't Live on Love," the pickets have been patrolling the plant in support of their demand for a general increase of 10 cents an hour. Mrs. Gardner said she was willing to grant increases on some jobs. Present wages range from 35 to 87½ cents.

Seven More Contestants for Beauty Crown are Picked Last Evening

The date for filing applications in the contest which will determine the Queen of the Rock River Valley, which is a feature of the Louella Parsons Homecoming on Sept. 15, has closed and the Dixon Lions club committee is now engaged in the final selections. The Dixon theater was filled to capacity last evening when 12 contestants appeared, from whom seven were selected by popular applause to enter the finals.

The Dixon entries now total 14 eligible contestants and next week they will appear at the Dixon theater and final selection of three candidates will be made. At the selections last evening the three contestants representing the Mendota area and the trio from Prophetstown were presented. The seven additional contestants from the Dixon area selected last evening were: Joyce Hamilton, Winifred Ann Loftus, Marilee Burns, Helen Lennon, Irene Henson, Betty Jayne Cummings and Frances Lonerigan.

Franklin Grove Winners
Wednesday evening as a feature of the closing of the 1941 Fall Festival of Franklin Grove three contestants were selected and are entered in the contest. The

Girl Escapes Jail; College Is Cleared

San Diego, Calif., Sept. 5—(AP)—Ann Marie Hansen will pay no severe penalty for killing her two children at birth, and San Diego State College is cleared of any responsibility for the 23-year-old student's act.

Superior Judge Edward Kelly placed the unmarried mother, who pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the double slaying, on 10 years' probation. "I cannot find it in my heart to add to the burden of this girl—she has been punished enough," he said.

Shortly before the probation hearing ended Miss Hansen told the court that a sex lecture given to a college health education class last spring "had nothing to do with my present predicament."

A report by County Psychiatric H. F. Andrews, introduced earlier in the hearing, quoted the young woman as saying the lecturer, at least by inference, had approved trial marriages and extra-marital sex relations and that this had tended to place her "further off guard."

Destroyer Greer Under More Than One Sub Attack

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Telegraph Special Service)

Confucius in his boundless wisdom doubtless would advise us to take it easy in reaching conclusions about the mystery of the sub-marine attack on the United States destroyer Greer.

If for the sake of argument we adopt the British idea that it was a German U-boat which fired the torpedoes, then the question immediately arises whether the action wasn't the result of a mistake.

There has been no indication that Herr Hitler wants to see America in the European war, although he might be praying that we become involved in the Orient. In fact, all the signs have been that he hopes we won't intervene in the western theater.

The point isn't that the fuhrer loves us the more but that he likes the idea of the United States navy getting into action at this critical juncture the less. His reason is that he likely will undertake major operations in the Mediterranean in the near future; he presumably will intensify his U-boat campaign in the battle of the Atlantic; and he doesn't want American warships supporting the British when the allies invade the continent.

In short, the nazi chief has plenty of trouble on his hands already—and so much for that. The British invasion, by the way, probably won't be tried before spring, unless unexpected developments in the Russo-Nazi war make it advisable for Britain to strike sooner. Meantime the bloodletting which the nazis are undergoing in Russia is paying the way for the allied assault across the English Channel.

Sanguinary fighting continues throughout the entire length of the great battle-line in Russia, but there seems to have been little change in position during the past twenty-four hours. The authoritative German commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland says the Reds apparently are carrying out extensive attacks on the central front, but belittles their effectiveness.

Dienst misses the point. The significant fact is that the bolsheviks are able to inaugurate big-scale attacks at all, after standing off such a violent assault. It is indicative of reserve power and good morale.

It is interesting to see the Germans again resorting to what the Muscovites describe as the "psychological attack" a sort of stage play which is calculated to confound the enemy. In the case in hand the Reds report that two companies of picked nazis troops advanced in close formation, "proceeded by a band as on parade, kettle drums rolling and bass drums thundering." Moscow says the attackers were annihilated.

The "psychological attack" cropped up more than once in the World War and I was on the grounds on one occasion when it met with notable success. During

Roosevelt Tells of Incident at Press Meet

BULLETIN

Reykjavik, Sept. 5—(AP)—Officers and crew members of the U. S. destroyer Greer, which was attacked by a submarine near here, said today they believed that they at least damaged the attacking craft.

Washington, Sept. 5—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today that the United States destroyer Greer had been attacked more than once, that steps were being taken to track down the marauding submarine, and that the vessel would be eliminated if found.

Roosevelt, speaking to a press conference, did not say exactly how many attacks had been made on the vessel, which was carrying mail to Iceland. But, he said, they occurred in daylight, and definitely on the American side of the ocean.

He said that while the Greer was alone at the time torpedoes were launched at her with no other American ships nearby, she was clearly marked, and carried an identification number, plus an American flag.

Asked what would be done if the attacking vessel were found, Roosevelt said he supposed American forces would "eliminate" it or try to. He authorized direct quotation of the world eliminate and said it was a good one.

The chief executive said the Greer was attacked under conditions of good daylight and visibility. The navy department had announced torpedoes were launched at her yesterday morning and that the destroyer promptly dropped depth charges.

Roosevelt did not say whether all the attacks occurred within a relatively short time yesterday morning or were spaced at intervals.

Approves Ship's Action
He left little doubt that he approved action of the commander in taking immediate steps against the submarine by dropping powerful depth charges.

He said it was very fortunate the destroyer was not hit, remarking that it was beyond his power to say why the aim of the submarine was so poor. He would not disclose whether the undersea craft's periscope was above water, declaring he could not talk about that.

"As a landlubber to a sea expert," a reporter inquired, "is it possible for a submarine to make a mistake in broad daylight at torpedo distance?"

Roosevelt said he would put the explanation this way:

"If a submarine had a periscope above the surface there was no excuse for a wrong identification. Most torpedoes, he said, are fired by means of a visual sight."

Sound Firing Inaccurate
However, almost all naval vessels, including German and Italian, he added, have listening devices and it is possible to fire at a sound. This method is not nearly as accurate.

Roosevelt dismissed as hypothetical a question on how he would classify the Greer incident as regards "a shooting war."

"To an inquiry whether it was possible for a ship to be on the American side of the Atlantic and at the same time in a belligerent zone proclaimed by Germany, the chief executive said this country never had been notified of the establishment of such a zone."

To a further question, whether the Greer had behaved in accord with instructions and policy in dropping depth charges immediately, the President suggested there was no information to the contrary. He asked his questioner what he would do if attacked.

Brings Up Subject
The President himself brought up the attack on the Greer to open his press conference, telling reporters that he knew they would all be asking about it.

He had whispered for a moment first with his naval aide, Captain John R. Beardsall.

The president said he had a couple of thoughts on the attack as a result of listening to one or two broadcasts and reading one or two things said by people in Washington. These people reminded him of the father in what he said was an allegorical story.

Once upon a time at a place where he was living, Roosevelt related, some country children were on the way to school and

GEMS OF THOUGHT

SELF RESPECT

No more important duty can be urged upon those who are entering the great theatre of life than simple loyalty to their best convictions.

—Chapin.

To have a respect for ourselves guides our morals; and to have a deference for others governs our manners.

—Sterne.

What has an individual gained by losing his own self-respect? or what has he lost when, retaining his own, he loses the homage of fools, or the pretentious praise of hypocrites, false to themselves as to others?

—Mary Baker Eddy.

He that respects himself is safe from others; He wears a coat of mail that none can pierce.

—Longfellow.

Self-respect is the noblest garment with which a man may clothe himself, the most elevating feeling with which the mind can be inspired.

—Samuel Smiles.

It is necessary to the happiness of man that he be mentally faithful to himself.

—Thomas Paine.

Symbolism of Book of Revelation Has Special Significance for World

Text: Revelation 2:1-11

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of Advance

The fact that the Book of Revelation is the last book in our Bible, with the additional fact that it deals so largely with "the last things," has given it a significance that tends somewhat to distort the book's real meaning and purpose.

So far as scholars can determine, it was not the last of our New Testament books to be written, but was written probably many years earlier than the Gospel of John and some of the epistles. Moreover, it was preeminently written for Christians of its own time in their persecuted and hard pressed condition. Because of this fact, the book has particular timeliness today.

The emphasis upon "the last things" was to bring these suffering Christians the vision of ultimate victory and the glory of the triumph of right and truth. We must be careful not to dissociate the book from its own time and purpose in the conditions that the Christians of the early church were facing, for it is only in this way that we can derive the full message of the book for today.

The Book of Revelation, the only book of its kind in our New Testament, is what is called an apocalypse. In this respect it is like the Book of Daniel, and these books are part of a number of this sort that were written between the first two centuries before Christ and the first century after Christ.

A Thought For Today

For wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest does the same things.—Romans 2:1.

Give every man thy ear, but few thy voice; take each man's censure, but reserve thy judgment.—Shakespeare.

Jingo

Words are like people. Some of them get bad names, some good. Some deserve the bad and some the good, but all are affected by the reputation they bear.

"Jingo" has become a bad word. It has come to mean an irresponsible war-monger.

The name comes, if recollection serves, from an old verse reading in part, "We don't want to fight, but by Jingo if we do, we've got the men, we've got the ships, we've got the money, too!"

People remember the catchy word "Jingo." They forget the "we don't want to fight."

The United States, whether we like it or not, is getting into a position just a little like that today. We, too, don't want to fight. For two years we have resolutely stayed clear of fighting. We have given up rights to ship our goods by sea which we always claimed before. No American ship has gone into a European port which was blockaded or in the actual war zone, though we always previously claimed the right to send there.

Why did we give up those rights? Because insisting on them 23 years ago got us into a fight, and today we don't want to fight."

What is the best assurance today of keeping out of a fight?

Why, a clear demonstration to the world that "we've got the ships, we've got the men, we've got the money, too!"—and further, the clear demonstration that, if necessary, we propose to use them.

The United States has nothing very directly against Japan. It wants no war with Japan. But it simply will not acquiesce in Japan's putting a "Keep Off" sign on the whole of east Asia. The United States has nothing very directly against Germany. But it will not acquiesce in Germany's putting a "Keep Off" sign on the whole of Europe and Africa. Especially since those signs are expanding signs, by their nature and by their past performance.

There is a chance to avoid war if the United States will pile up sufficient force that no party of World War II will wish to offend us. There is a chance to avoid war if enough surplus war supplies are produced and sent to those resisting aggression so that they may win out. There is a chance to avoid war if U. S. power is so great that fear of it forces a decent peace.

But those are the only chances. Otherwise the United States faces war whether it wants to

● SERIAL STORY

WANT-AD ROMANCE.

BY TOM HORNER

CHAPTER XI

TED: Please let us hear from you. Worried. Kay.

KAY danced down the dock to the canoe. Joe and Mary were to be married! Tomorrow, maybe. If Ted—they could make it a double wedding—

Ted should be waiting for her. She had promised herself this last moonlight canoe trip, planning an ideal setting for his proposal. There had been other opportunities, she recalled, but Ted had evaded them. That last night in the plant—She was sure he intended asking her then, but she had wanted a more romantic setting.

She wondered when Joe had asked Mary. That first night at the lake, or at the dance. She decided it must have been at the dance. Mary had adored Joe ever since he came to the factory, she had confessed, but she was willing to turn him in as a spy. Kay wondered if she would have possessed such courage.

And Joe, dear old Joe. If she had had a brother, Kay would have wanted him to be just like Joe Benton. Big, successful, understanding. She owed everything to Joe. If he hadn't spilled that acid, they might never have known all about Wondrosoap.

Where was Ted?

Surely he wouldn't break their last date at the lake. He might have been delayed in town, getting the car serviced for the trip home. She would wait.

FLYNN called her outside early the next morning. "Just what did you say to that boy last night, Kay?" he demanded, almost sternly. "You've been leading him on, making him think he had a chance. There was no cause to hurt him that much."

"What are you talking about, Mike? I didn't see Ted last night. I waited on the dock until after midnight. He didn't show up. He's the one who will do the apologizing."

"You didn't see him?" Flynn was bewildered. "He stormed in the house about 10, packed his things and left, before I knew what he was doing. He seemed sore about something."

"He's gone? He didn't say goodbye?" Kay could hardly believe it. Not Ted. He couldn't leave her like this. Without a word of explanation. Without asking her—

The final blow came later. A fight or not. In either case, the ships, the men, and the money are as necessary to the national life as breath itself.

An Army to Be Proud Of

The summer maneuvers of the various American units give every reason for Americans to be proud of their army.

Some of the conditions of the problems worked out have come about as close to actual warfare as that can be done in time of peace, and some of the hardships undergone have approximated those of an actual war. War Secretary Stimson is probably right when he said that troops participating in the maneuvers are far, far ahead of the divisions sent to France during World War I. Yet those divisions thrown in against crack German divisions with four years of experience back of them, did very well indeed. They broke the German lines, at a cost greater than they would have had to pay had their experience been greater, but they broke them.

So today. There is no reason to be discouraged. The armies in training today are good soldiers, and given a little more specialized training for the specialized warfare of today, they will be quite capable of meeting any emergency the country may have to meet.

The United States never failed to produce such men for Jones and Bainbridge, Preble and Decatur; they stepped forward for Porter and Farragut and Dewey; they will not be lacking for Stark and Kimmel and King.

The Navy Needs Men

Every week, every day almost, a new warship for the two-ocean navy splashes down the ways into the water.

It takes sailors to man these ships, and the navy is now seeking 13,000 a month to go into training so that when the ships are ready the man will be ready.

A navy is more than ships, more than guns. It is men.

The United States never failed to produce such men for Jones and Bainbridge, Preble and Decatur; they stepped forward for Porter and Farragut and Dewey; they will not be lacking for Stark and Kimmel and King.

Civilian Defense Measures

The various measures being taken for civilian defense, practice blackouts, fire precautions and the like are not being taken very seriously by some people. They should be. Here's why:

In 1933 a British committee in these almost apologetic words justified its call for such measures: "The need is not related to any belief that war is imminent. It arises from the fact that the risk of attack from the air, however remote it may be, is a risk that cannot be ignored. . . cannot be improved . . . but must be made in time of peace."

To such words, Britain might have listened with profit in 1938. Perhaps we ought not to ignore them now.

Yes, It's a World War

When the present war broke out, many Americans tried hard to regard it, and to refer to it, as a European war.

The second anniversary of that war is now upon us, and the National Geographic Society estimates that 1,700,000,000 people, four-fifths of the world's population—are now at war. The Western Hemisphere is the only sizable part of the whole world that has managed to remain aloof.

Against our will, and against our grain, we guess its now World War II.

If some people didn't have troubles they'd have a hard time carrying on a conversation.

Selective Service

Officials Plan to Help TB Sufferers

Number of Sanatoriums in Illinois Offer Co-operation

Chicago, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The state's selective service medical officials took steps today to provide specialized handling of draft registrants found suffering from tuberculosis.

The work will be carried on under supervision of a special department within the new super state medical advisory board, organized to oversee rehabilitation or draftees rejected because of physical defects.

Concern over the prevalence of tuberculosis among registrants was expressed after X-ray pictures were taken of all men reporting at the Chicago induction station during August. The result was that 1.82 per cent of all those examined were rejected, compared with 21 per cent previously.

Under the tuberculosis division, headed by Dr. Frederick Tice of Chicago, any case of the disease uncovered or suspected by draft board examiners will be sent to one of 19 sanatoriums for X-ray and complete diagnosis.

Cooperating Institutions

Among the institutions which have agreed to cooperate, with the physician in each who will serve as chairman of the section which each constitutes, are these:

Kane County Springbrook Sanatorium, Aurora, Dr. Kenneth G. Bulley.

DeKalb County Sanatorium, DeKalb, Dr. Loren Collins.

Will County Sanatorium, Joliet, Dr. Bernard Klein.

Edward Sanatorium, Naperville, Dr. Jerome R. Head.

Lake County Sanatorium, Waukegan, Dr. Charles Petter.

The Winfield Sanatorium, Winfield, Dr. Max Bessenthal.

Elm Grove Sanatorium, Bushnell, Dr. R. C. Benkendorf.

St. Clair County Sanatorium, East St. Louis, Dr. Robinson Bosworth.

Madison County Sanatorium, Edwardsville, Dr. O. C. Heyer.

Livingston County Sanatorium, Pontiac, Dr. Otto L. Bettag.

Rock Island County Sanatorium, Rock Island, Dr. A. H. Beam.

Palmer Sanatorium, Springfield, Dr. George T. Palmer.

Outlook Sanatorium (Champaign county), Urbana, Dr. A. T. Cole.

Illinois Highways

Program to Center on Priority Roads

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 5.—(AP)—The prediction that Illinois highway construction would proceed at "virtually the normal" rate despite the effects of national defense emergency measures was made today by Ivan A. Palmer, assistant director of public works and buildings.

Palmer said that Thomas H. McDonald, commissioner of the federal public roads administration, informed state road officials in a recent letter that certain classes of road construction had been designated for priority preference ratings by the Office of Production Management.

The order applies to strategic primary and secondary federal aid roads on which most of this year's improvements will be made, and will enable the division of highways to assure contractors bidding on Illinois highway projects a priority which will make available adequate supplies of structural and reinforcing steel and road building equipment, which are now on the defense priority list, Palmer said.

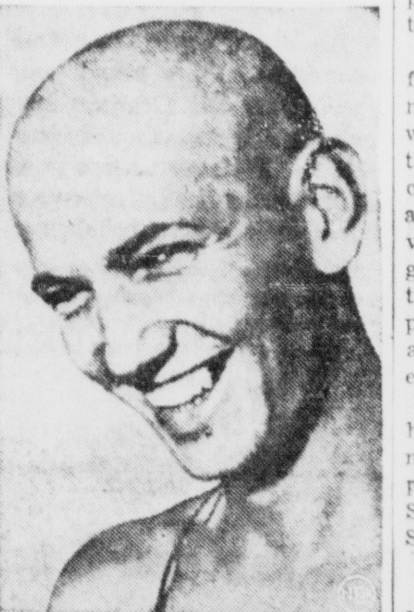

The assistant director said the state awarded $2,408,000 in highway contracts during August.

Illinois Corn Denied Entry Into Missouri

St. Louis, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Four carloads of Illinois and Wisconsin corn in husks were refused entry into Missouri by state entomologists yesterday under a quarantine order issued by the state department of agriculture in July.

The quarantine, applying to both feed and sweet corn and covering shipments from more than a dozen states, barred entry of the corn because it had not been inspected for European corn borer before shipment.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Sept. 4.—This government seems to me to be cringing in the face of a crisis. Mr. Roosevelt and Henderson told us a dangerous inflation was at hand, and they said nothing to make us think it could be avoided. They have recommended some strong legislation which will enable them to take hold of the price situation they foresee, but the legislation is tied up in congressional committees where cotton senators do not like it. Their attitude is that the cotton farmer has suffered for many long years, and now is his time to get his just dues. They don't think a little inflation would hurt the country. But every reasoning man knows that every time you lift the price of cotton you cut a wage.

We are in a condition where a lot of people who have only made $20 a week in all their long lives, are now making $90 and $100 a week. Naturally they want to spend it. If they spend it, as they must, they create a demand for goods of which there is already a shortage due to our defense needs and the demand for British sustenance. So where are we?

We are just in the middle of a stream in which the farm bloc and the labor bloc seem to be pushing us into what they think is the best economy for the country, and it is certainly best for them.

High farm prices and high labor wages sound like something we ought to have. There would certainly be nothing greater for the country as a whole than a farm price of 110 per cent parity, which is the point at which congress now is trying to fix it. There would be nothing better for labor's standpoint than a wage which gave it a similar superior hold on the economic system.

But what about us other people? What about the consumers? You can't fix a farm price at an astounding degree of prosperity, and a labor wage at what labor thinks it should be, and still have a functioning economic sense. That's simple common sense. In a runaway situation, such as we have now, it is obvious that someone has to step out and exert some measure of control. You just can't let democracy run away with itself. There are fundamental things that you are not correcting in their inception. And as a columnist here writing about what I see and hear, I think time has come when Roosevelt should stop asking the farm bloc and labor bloc to sell bonds, but are not selling very many, because you can't sell bonds against an inflationary situation. They are trying to curtail the availability of credit to effect the same result.

Unless he does, the country is sure to arrive at the destination which he and Henderson have so gloomily forecast. Defense expenditures now are running about $1,300,000,000 a month. The government wants to get them up to $3,000,000,000. They tried a tax bill to siphon some of the superfluous defense spending back. They are trying to sell bonds, but are not selling very many, because you can't sell bonds against an inflationary situation. They are trying to curtail the availability of credit to effect the same result.

President Thinks Court Campaigns Saved Democracy

New York, Sept. 5.—(AP)—President Roosevelt believes that his 1937 Supreme Court campaign eliminated a possible "great danger" of "some alien type of government" for the United States.

In the first of five articles to be published in Collier's Weekly, the president described 1937 as a "definite turning point in the history of the United States". This was "the year which was to determine whether the kind of government which the people of the United States had voted for in 1932, 1934 and 1936, was to be permitted by the Supreme Court to function," he asserted adding: "If it had not been permitted to function as a democracy, it is my reasoned opinion that there would have been great danger that it might have been ultimately compelled to give way to some alien type of government—in the vain hope that the new form of government might be able to give the average men and women the protection and cooperative assistance which they had the right to expect."

Roosevelt wrote that "a dead hand was being laid" upon the new deal's "whole program of progress. It was the hand of the Supreme Court of the United States".

More than 33,000 persons were killed in their homes in 1940 as a result of accidents.

Aid to Dependent Children Is Under New Setup in Lee

Oscar Berga of Amboy, Lee county superintendent of public welfare, today announced the plan to be pursued in this county in the filing of applications for aid to dependent children, which will begin Monday, Sept. 8. The plan to be pursued has been outlined following meetings of the county advisory committee of which Judge Grover Gehant is general chairman and Supervisors D. H. Spencer of Dixon and Charles Buckingham of Amboy are members.

"Preference in the handling of applications will be given first to those persons who are now receiving mother's pensions through the County court, and secondly, to those persons who are receiving relief through the local relief authorities," Superintendent Berga explained. "The preferred treatment of these two groups is made necessary because of the discontinuance of the present mother's pension program and the reduction to the relief appropriation made by the 62nd General Assembly."

Medical Board Named

"The county department is now working with the County Judge and probation officers in determining the eligibility for aid to dependent children of those persons now receiving a mother's pension. The Illinois Public Aid Commission, through the local relief authorities, is reviewing relief records and referring those who appear to be eligible to the various county departments of public welfare."

"The first payments under the new law will be made during the month of October. It is expected that some payments will be authorized in all counties for this first month."

Superintendent Berga announced that a county medical advisory board has also been named consisting of Drs. J. M. Lund, David Murphy and H. J. McCoy of Dixon, who will assist in the county wide program.

TO TAKE APPLICATION

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 5.—(AP)—The state will begin receiving applications for aid to dependent children under the newly authorized state-federal $8,000,000-a-year child aid program next Monday, it was announced today by Fletcher C. Kettle, superintendent of the Illinois division of public assistance.

Kettle said applications would be received in all of the downstate county public welfare department offices and in the district offices of the Cook county bureau of public welfare.

In his statement, the superintendent said "preference in the handling of applications will be given first to those persons who are now receiving mother's pensions through the county courts, and secondly to those persons who are receiving relief through the local relief authorities."

"The preferred treatment of these two groups is made necessary," Kettle said, "because of the discontinuance of the present mother's pension program and the reduction in the relief appropriation made by the 62nd general assembly."

Departments Working

"County departments are already working with county judges and probation officers in determining the eligibility for aid to dependent children of those persons now receiving a mother's pension. The Illinois Public Aid Commission, through the local relief authorities, is receiving relief records and referring those who appear to be eligible to the various county departments of public welfare. The Chicago relief administration is providing a similar service for persons receiving relief in Chicago."

"The first payments under the new law will be made during the month of October. It is expected that some payments will be authorized in all counties for this first month."

Southern Tip of State Failed to Get Showers

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Showers and general rains fell last night and yesterday in all portions of Illinois except the extreme southern area around Cairo, the U. S. weather bureau reported today.

Heaviest rain during the past 24 hours was reported at Ottawa where 2.55 inches were measured. Over an inch of rain fell at Chicago, Springfield, Carbondale, Moline, Dixon, Galva, Kewanee, and Grafton. At Mt. Vernon, 46 inch was reported, and Chester received .35 inch. New Burnside had only one tenth of an inch.

Green Insists His Trip Around State Is Not Significant

Alton, Ill., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Populous Madison and St. Clair counties were visited by Gov. Dwight H. Green today on the fourth day of his 1,500 mile tour of the state. As his itinerary brought him into normally Democratic territory, the Republican chief executive sought to discourage talk that his inspection trip had political significance.

In Quincy last night, where he was introduced at a civic dinner and reception by U. S. Judge L. Leroy Adair, a Democrat, the governor said he was "glad that this meeting is deemed to be non-partisan and nonpolitical."

To Acquire Knowledge

He declared the purpose of his ten-day state tour was to obtain first hand knowledge of the problems and needs of various sections of the state and to inspect state institutions.

Green announced the state was ready to make available half the fund of approximately $50,000 necessary to acquire about three thousand acres of land for a new state park in Adams and Brown counties at Sloom Springs, 25 miles east of Quincy.

At Pere Marquette state park near where he spent last night Green participated today in the filming of official motion pictures depicting state park developments. He planned to inspect the state hospital and state game farm here later today and go to Belleville tonight. Most of tomorrow will be spent by Green in the East St. Louis-Belleview area.

Selectees Enlist Praise; Fine Men Says Army Officer

Somewhere in South Arkansas, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The performance of the American selective service army in the field brought top praise today from a veteran of the regulars, Maj. general Clarence S. Ridley.

In the current Kotnik-Almat "war" that provides a scenario for the Second Army's maneuvers in south Arkansas and north Louisiana, Ridley commands the red Kotnik forces. His army of about 50,000 has as its nucleus the Fifth division of Fort Custer, Mich., and the Sixth (his regular command) of Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Nearly 75 per cent selectee in personnel, with many enlisted men who have been in uniform less than three months, these divisions are regarded as a cross section of the new civilian army. The Fifth includes selectees from Michigan, southern Wisconsin, northern Illinois and Indiana. The Sixth is known as "the boiling pot" of the western Mississippi valley, including soldiers from every state from the Dakotas to Louisiana.

Reviews Action

Reviewing 24 hours of action that saw his soldiers capture and cross the strategic Ouachita river in south Arkansas, routing blue "national guard" outfits from New York, Illinois, Tennessee, Ohio, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, General Ridley smiled.

"They are a fine type of men, these men of the Fifth and Sixth," he said. "Like all selectees, they are learning fast. They are intensely interested. Above all, they have high spirit."

"They were anxious to cross that river and start chasing the blues. They wanted to get started before we were ready for the crossing to be made, and that in spite of the drenching rain that mired the swamp roads along the river banks, setting up the most trying field conditions. But when the test came, there was no confusion."

More than 100,000,000 dirt particles have been found in a single cubic foot of air in one city by research engineers.

Anne Beebe to Become Bride of Ensign Weyrauch

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Beebe of Stillman Valley are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Anne, to Ensign Herbert E. Weyrauch, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Weyrauch of Oregon. News of the couple's betrothal was revealed last evening when Mrs. Beebe and her younger daughter, Carolyn, entertained 20 guests at dinner in the French room of the Hotel Nelson in Rockford.

White gladioli decorated the table, and at each cover was a corsage bouquet with a scroll attached, reading: "Anne and Herby."

For her announcement party, Anne wore a brown and beige ensemble with a gardenia corsage. Her mother was wearing black and white, and Carolyn chose a black frock. Both Mrs. Beebe and Carolyn had shoulder bouquets of mixed flowers.

Among those attending the dinner last evening were Mr. Weyrauch's mother and his sister, Madeline, of Oregon.

Miss Beebe was graduated from Stillman Valley high school, and attended the University of Illinois for two years, before entering training at St. Luke's hospital in Chicago, where she is a student nurse. She was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority on the Illini campus.

Young Ensign Weyrauch attended Cornell college at Mt. Vernon, Iowa for a year after his graduation from Oregon high school. He received his commission from the United States Naval academy at Annapolis in February, and is now assigned to the U. S. S. North Carolina, with Brooklyn, N. Y., as his home port.

LUCKY THIRTEEN

Members of the Lucky Thirteen club were circling a dinner table at Lowell park lodge last evening, honoring the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Jay W. Curran. The Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Ford and their young son, Wallace, returned last evening from Estes Park, Colorado, where they spent the month of August. While in the west, the Dixon clergyman attended Phillips university summer graduate school at Association camp, four miles from the park.

POST-NUPTIAL PARTY

Mrs. Elliott Schoenholz (Avis Williams) was complimented Thursday evening with a linen shower at the home of Miss Kathryn Smith on East River Road. Tables were formed for bunco. Prizes, won by Mrs. Oscar Smith, Miss Hope Williams, and Lydia Denison, were presented to the honoree.

Gift cards read for Mrs. John McClanahan. Mrs. Kenneth Buzzard, Mrs. Everett Kested, Mrs. Oscar Smith, Mrs. Wayne Dingman, Mrs. Zael Spinden, Mrs. James Burke, and the Misses Lydia Denison, Hope Williams, Olive McClanahan, and the hostesses.

WESTERN VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wilson and daughter, Betty Jane, of 904 South Ottawa avenue, returned Wednesday evening from a 5,800-mile trip through the Black Hills, Yellowstone National park and Mt. Ranier park.

While in Washington, they visited relatives in Centralia, and spent some time with the Wilsons' son, Pvt. Clarence (Bud) Wilson, Jr., who was on maneuvers in the vicinity.

IN MINNESOTA

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Conrad left last evening for Nelson's camp at Crane Lake, Minn. Mr. Conrad will be returning to Dixon in a week, and Mrs. Conrad plans to visit in Milwaukee and Chicago before she returns home.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Sixteen guests met at the Charles Shippert home south of Nachusa last evening for a surprise celebration, honoring the birthday anniversary of Miss Ethel Shippert. Gift packages were brought by the group.

TO DUNDIE

Meedames Cal Tyler, Isadore Eichler, Harry Warner, George B. Shaw, and W. G. Murray motored to Dundie yesterday for luncheon at the Milk Pail, located on the McGraw estate, managed by Edwin Eichler, formerly of Dixon.

T. N. T. CLUB

Mrs. Elliott Schoenholz was hostess to members of the T. N. T. club last evening at the Loveland Community House. Mrs. Glen Buzzard is to be the next hostess.

Harvest Gold Wool

Deanna Durbin appears very much the young matron in this dress that looks like a suit. Of Harvest Gold wool, the collarless jacket has two pin-tucked pockets high on the bodice—the simple one-piece dress beneath has a slightly flared skirt. With it Deanna wears sables, brown suede bag, gloves and shoes and a matching gold felt hat with a peaked crown of red, blue and gold feather wings.

Brickey-Mershon Bridal Is Read

A simple nuptial ceremony was solemnized on Monday at the First Methodist church in Ashton, in which Elmore K. Mershon, youngest daughter of the C. H. Mershons became the bride of Clare R. Brickey of Dixon, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brickey of Essex, Ill. The Rev. F. B. Reeves, pastor of the church, heard the vows in a noon ceremony.

The bride chose brown accessories for her street-length dress of brown sheer. Miss Gertrude Unger, as a maid of honor, wore an all-brown ensemble. Earl Mershon of Ashton, brother of the bride, was best man for Mr. Brickey.

Mrs. Brickey formerly attended the Lee county schools. The bridegroom is a graduate of Gardner high school, and later attended Armour Institute of Technology in Chicago for two years.

The couple will reside in Dixon, where the bridegroom is with the Illinois Northern Utilities company.

Wa-Tan-Yans Are to Decorate for Parsons Banquet

Dixon Wa-Tan-Yans were discussing their assignment for Louella Parsons' Day preparations at a dinner meeting last evening at the Hotel Nachusa. The chapter, composed of business and professional women, has been asked to decorate the tables for the Homecoming banquet.

Miss Martha Meppen heads the decorating committee. Assisting her will be the Misses Retta Jean Keithley, Helen Nagel, Elsie Spangler, and Mary Bales.

The chapter's second meeting of the month, scheduled for Sept. 18, will be omitted, due to a joint anniversary celebration being planned by the Freeport chapter. Mrs. Lawrence Poole of the local chapter is to exemplify the initiatory ritual. Miss Ethel Crawford is accepting dinner reservations and arranging transportation.

Miss Crawford heads the September hostess committee. Her co-hostesses are Miss Spangler and Miss Mary Luger.

The club members were welcoming their president, Miss Mary Alice Buchanan, upon her return from a summer stay in California. Goodbyes were said to Miss Grace Koeppe, who was also presented with a gift from the chapter. Miss Koeppe expects to leave Dixon soon for Belvidere.

Mrs. Krueger was formerly Miss Edna Post of Dixon. They are enjoying a tour through the eastern states and Canada and plan to return to their home in November.

PAST MATRONS

Mrs. W. H. Ware and Mrs. Frank H. Kreim will be entertaining members of the Past Matrons' club at luncheon tomorrow at Peter Piper's. Bridge games will follow the luncheon.

Greet the former Dixonite, Louella O. Parsons—who has become a nationally known figure.—Sept. 15th, is the day. tf

Big horn sheep have a smaller chance of surviving the next hundred years than any other species of American big game.

Slacks Are "Must"

Slacks are a college must on the West Coast. Above, Arleen Whelan wears the most outstanding shown. Made of Timberline Green twill, the pointed yoke is trimmed with copper nailheads, and a wide band of copper, surrounded by nailheads, forms the belt.

Style Notes

Latest for evening necklines is fichu effects.

Trend to very wide belts is announced in dress collections. Pad and wing designs formed of wild feathers trim the new hats.

Wool dresses are trimmed most intriguingly with velvet this season.

Dresses with a two-piece look stress blouse tops in sharp contrast colors.

Set-in midriff section in contrast color gives smart style accent to new dress arrivals.

Rising Prices for Grain Pour Wealth Into Growers' Tills

By FRANKLIN MULLIN
Chicago, Sept. 5—(AP)—Steadily rising grain prices during the domestic harvest season have poured unexpected added wealth estimated at more than $700,000,000 into the cereal belt in the last three months, market statistics showed today.

Since harvesters began work in the southwest wheat country, market prices of farmers' big money crops, wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley and soybeans have advanced 12 to 37 per cent to the highest levels in about four years.

Over the same period estimates of production of these crops have been hiked from about 4,900,000,000 bushels to almost 5,100,000,000, one of the largest harvests on record, comparing with slightly over 4,900,000,000 last year.

Unusual Combination
The added market value of these crops because of the unusual combination of higher prices and increased production means augmented wealth that will accrue to producers either through direct marketings or transformation of grain into livestock and livestock products.

Market statisticians estimated the potential market value of these crops, including a better than billion dollar wheat harvest and better than two billion dollar corn yield, at slightly more than $4,100,000,000, the largest in recent years. A year ago at this time, when market prices were 14 to 56 cents below present prices, the harvest was worth only about $2,600,000,000.

Market experts said this year's golden flow of grain would contribute to the sharp increase in cash farm income from sale of all products which coupled with government payments, is expected to match or better that of any of the past 20 years, totaling well over ten billion dollars.

Popularity of De-Luxe 4-Door Model Cars To Increase

New York, Sept. 5—(The Special News Service)—Don't be surprised if four-door models occupy an even more prominent position in auto sales totals during the coming year than in past seasons.

All signs point to a de luxe four door year.

Reason: Demand for new automobiles, because of the coming 25 to 60 per cent reduction in output to save materials for defense, will exceed supply. Sales agency men generally agree on that.

Hence, to be ordered in larger numbers, retailing circles say, will be the highly popular four doors, replete with de luxe equipment, and, possibly, extras like fog lights and radios.

The de luxe four doors fitted with extra equipment and selling $50 to $200 above two door cars, dealers reason, will increase gross sales, agency profits and give the seller a larger dollar figure in which to calculate value of used cars in trade-ins.

It will prove a partial offset to smaller unit sales.

This, of course, will be okay with a large swath of the morning public, for during the past six years more than 40 per cent of all new passenger cars sold have been four doors—more each year than any other body style.

A sales representative for one of the big three auto companies said here today that dealers generally would try to meet needs of old customers. For old "Doo" Brown, who traditionally has driven a business coupe, a new coupe will be ordered if "Doo" wants it. And the big sellers will provide flocks of standard models, bare of extra equipment, for the big fleet buyers.

For the man who wants to step into a salesroom and buy a car on the spot, however, it may be that a de luxe four door will be the only one quickly available.

Defense to Cut Golf Ball Output

New York—(The Special News Service)—Better start driving the old golf ball a little straighter! When you slice with the number two iron, better comb the rough, for there will be fewer new balls next year.

Golf clubs and other sporting equipment also are among items upon which production is being curtailed to free materials for national defense.

In talking about the everyday goods of which there will be smaller supplies on store counters, the OPM chiefs generally speak only of the obvious big items on which production is slowing—such things as passenger automobiles, trucks, buses, auto accessories, aluminum utensils, electric refrigerators, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, radios, ranges, stokers, water heaters, stoves, furnaces, oil burners, auto tires and tubes, silk hosiery and apparel, and hardware.

Among household items, production is being curtailed in picture frames, incandescent lamps, flashlights, clocks, toasters, ironing machines, meat roasters, coffee percolators, waffle irons, heating pads, heaters, and radiators, hot plates and grills, dish washer parts, food mixers, and air conditioners.

As in World War I, defense requirements may create auto radiator problems.

Output is being reduced on anti-freeze radiator solutions.

Remember back in 1918 when wood alcohol, the winter radiator solution of those days, went up out of sight in price?

Remember draining the radiator every night, and filling 'er up with hot water from the teakettle mornings?

Dealers insist, however, that with good distribution, there can be enough winter radiator fluid for everyone, despite output curtailment. Reason: Extremely mild weather in the east last winter left huge surplus supplies in wholesalers' hands.

The large rubber companies will be pleased if you go easy on rubber footwear. Wear rubbers only when walks are wet.

Informed circles say, too, that materials shortages already have hit or soon will curtail output of toys and games, amateur cameras and other photographic equipment, novelties and knickknacks made of metal, smokers' stands and metal ashtrays, advertising displays, "juke boxes" and recording discs, fans, dry shavers, razors and blades, and slide fasteners.

Don't worry, however, about shortages of toys this Christmas. Leading makers have been preparing for a record Christmas season never since toy totals last holiday season were found to have boosted the 1940 aggregate to $240,000,000 the biggest in history.

Holdup Man, Seen by Messenger, Shot Dead
Chicago, Sept. 5—(AP)—Robert Coates, 16-year-old Western Union boy, delivered a message last night that meant death for a holdup man.

Returning from an errand, the youth looked in the window of the south side branch office where he worked and saw a man pointing a gun at the manager, a woman employee and two patrons.

He ran a short distance and told Policeman Robert Hayes who met the gunman emerging from the office. The robber shot once and the officer returned the fire, his bullet piercing the robber's head.

Cards in the dead man's pockets identified him as A. L. Durk, 21-year-old steel worker.

He had obtained less than $100 in the holdup.

3,000 Men Thrown Out of Work by Act of Few
Harrison, N. J., Sept. 5—(AP)—The Crucible Steel Company closed down its entire Atha works here today as a result of a strike of several hundred maintenance men and thus halted work by 3,000 men on millions of dollars in army and navy contracts.

A company spokesman said the maintenance men were vital to operation of the plant and "the company was therefore forced to discontinue operations".

The shutdown came as federal, union and company officials conferred without success in an attempt to settle the dispute.

Texas reserved the right to divide itself into as many as five states when it joined the Union.

James Montgomery Flagg Finds Joan Fontaine Charming

By JAMES MONTGOMERY FLAGG

New York, Sept. 5 (The Special News Service)—She wished I hadn't known that pompadours needed "rats" - as corned beef will never go places without cabbage.

Of course I knew, because I drew pompadours in the nineties - and very lovely they were - and Mrs. Brian Aherne looks lovely too, with her blonde hair that way. Of course she might have let it go all the way around in the back as THEY did - as her mother - or should I have said her granny? - did!

Well, of all the delightful charms! I only hope some of the other movie queens in Hollywood, where I am headed, will be half as lovely! I doubt it.

As I always say, artists may look like hell, but they don't grow old - they just blow up. But Joan Fontaine! Of all the absurd names. She is no more "Joan Fontaine" than I am Cadwallader O'Toole.

Daughters of Professor
I imagine she was Cinderella to her sister, Olga de Havilland, who put her pretty foot (I suppose it's pretty - Joan's is) down on her taking the family name of De Havilland if she insisted on going into the flickers - which she did.

They're the daughters of an English university professor who taught in Japan. Joan was born in Tokyo just 21 years ago.

Oliva was taking no chances of having the family name disgraced if Joan flopped. It seems she needn't have worried. Or didn't you see her hit "Rebecca"? (I didn't, as I disliked the story, with a fine, fierce fervor.)

But I've seen Joan. That is so much better. I'm always childishly astonished when these stars are so much lovelier in person than they appear on the silver counterpane! Joan's rather a little one - 5 feet 4 in. her last pair of silk stockings. She has an abiding sense of humor. I think I made rather a mess of the drawing I did of her because I was having too good of a time in talking with her.

200 Candidates for State Police Force Summoned for Tests

Apparently Old Policy of Selection Partially Abandoned

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 5—(AP)—Two hundred candidates for positions on the state highway police force have been notified to appear for preliminary examinations before the second training school for the "rookie" patrolmen opens Sept. 22 at the state fair grounds.

The announcement of the new training school disclosed officially for the first time that department of public safety officials have partially abandoned the policy announced by Governor Green of selecting all candidates for state police posts on a strictly merit basis.

Some of the 200 men notified to report for physical and mental examinations "have been carefully selected by officials of the department of public safety, consideration having been given to the geographical location of the various police districts of the state," the announcement said.

Those men have been selected by various Republican county chairmen, it was learned.

Of the 200 applicants, those residing in the northern part of the state will report at 8 a. m., next Monday to the public safety department offices in Chicago for preliminary physical and mental examinations. Applicants from the central and southern parts of the state will report at 8 a. m. Thursday, Sept. 11 to the state fairgrounds at Springfield.

50 Vacancies to Fill

There are now about 50 vacancies on the state police force and one public safety department official said training of the new men probably would be followed by some dismissals of present police officers. Two officers active in Democratic party politics were relieved from duty Monday in Champaign.

Others who pass the training school will be placed on an eligible list to fill future vacancies, it was reported.

Public safety officials declined to divulge the names of the 200 candidates, and said names of those who passed examinations would be made public.

The police merit council recently appointed by Governor Green will assist public safety department officials in conducting the examinations. The council includes Prof. Ernest W. Puttkammer of the University of Chicago, a member of the first advisory council which examined several thousand applicants for state police jobs; Leonard Keeler, Chicago authority of police science; and Lawrence J. Benson, police and safety authority.

August has been a month for birthdays. Larry Clevinger celebrated his third birthday, Aug. 27 with 21 of his little chums. At noon a pretty frosted cake with four little red candles in white holders was brought into the dining room and the children all sang the "Happy Birthday Song" and all wished Larry many more happy birthdays. On Aug. 28 Lois Daniels, one of our little girls (as we call her) and now of Sterling spent all day with us and we all had such a good time. Robert Wagner, little 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wagner, spent several days with us and we all hope he will enroll soon. On Aug. 29 Vincent Haws had a birthday party at noon for his little friends. His fourth birthday was Aug. 31 but he thought it would be nice to celebrate on Friday. His mother, Mrs. Ervin Haws his brother, Ernest, his sister, Mrs. Russell Glenn and his one-year-old nephew Ivan Glenn and Miss Ida Paths (Aunt Ida) as Vincent calls her were his guests. A beautiful decorated cake, white and yellow with four little yellow candles burning was brought in and all sang "Happy Birthday" and when we said "Happy Birthday" to you, Vincent would say "Happy birthday to me Vincent. Fruit jello was also served. All had a good time and many pictures were taken of the group and also of Vincent and his cake. In years to come the children will appreciate their nursery pictures.

Girl Survives Plunge of 265 Feet Into Sea; Will Not Be Crippled

San Francisco, Sept. 5—(AP)—A 22-year-old girl, Cornelia Van Ierland, was able to smile today at her almost incredible fortune in surviving a 265 foot plunge from the Golden Gate bridge—a distance approximately the height of a 20-story building.

Thirty-four other persons had leaped from the lofty span into the sea since the bridge was opened in 1937, and all were killed. She survived Wednesday despite an impact so great her silk stockings were burst into shreds, both shoes were torn off, and a ring was ripped from her finger.

At the hospital she said: "I had to jump. I couldn't help myself. I was standing there looking down and something just came over me. I couldn't help it." Doctors told her she not only would live, but would not be a cripple.

It is estimated that 25,000,000 persons live in the 133,700 square miles of the Punjab region of India.

In the sixth census, 1840, the United States had a population of 17,069,453, an increase of 32.7 per cent over the 1830 figure.

To the Parents of School Children

Dear Parents:

It's school time for the children again--time for reading and other studies. Reading and seeing require plenty of good light, so make sure your home is well lighted with IES lamps and proper fixtures. It would also be advisable to measure your home illumination to be certain you have enough light to prevent eyestrain. Merely strong light is not enough--it must be sufficiently diffused and free from glare. An IES lamp is scientifically designed to produce correct lighting. Come in and let us explain just why home lighting is so important to your children's eyes. Any good lamp dealer will be glad to help you select adequate lamps--or you can choose a new IES lamp from our new shipment, just arrived. Remember, your children can have only one pair of eyes. Eyesight is priceless, but good lighting is cheap!

Sincerely yours,

Illinois Northern Utilities Company

BOWLERS' MEETING

Ed Worley, president of the Dixon Bowling association, has called a meeting for next Monday night, Sept. 9, at the Dixon Recreation and urges all team captains and as many of the keggers as possible to attend. Important league issues will be discussed in preparation for the opening of the men's leagues here on Sept. 16. The meeting is called for 7:30 o'clock.

PHEASANTS ARRIVE

Deputy Conservation Inspector Stoddard Danekas of Reynolds township was one of the county's busiest citizens today. He met trucks from the state game bird hatchery at Yorkville at Ambury this morning before 6 o'clock and started releasing 250 ring neck pheasants in practically every point in Lee county. The birds were more than half grown and are old enough to forage for themselves. The consignment, one of the largest to be released in Lee county in recent years, consisted of 125 pairs of the birds, which were ordered to be released in Lee county by the state department of conservation.

SPECIAL EDITION TOMORROW

Fanfare's third annual football roundup will be published tomorrow with news which we hope will furnish you with the low-down on what to expect in the North Central and Rock River conference seasons. There'll be schedules for you to clip, and all.

STAG PICNIC, ELECTION AND FUN

They had a LARGE evening at Polo last night when 75 fellows, members and sponsors of the Polo Softball league, ended the season with a shin-dig at the opera house. The "picnic" was originally scheduled for White Pine state park, but you all know how it rained. In the business meeting Charles Wolf was elected president of the league to succeed Jim Noakes. Dave Roberts was re-elected treasurer and Russell Dennis succeeds Martin Schryver, Jr., as secretary. The new grievance committee will be composed of Armond Ocker, John Meyers and Dick Terry. The financial books of the league show that the season was a success and some of the proceeds will be used to send cartons of cigars to boys who started in the league and who are now in camps. The Polo Garment team will receive a trophy as the team exhibiting the best sportsmanship during the season and another award will go to the Brookville team which lost only one game in the two rounds of the season. Players on these two teams are to get medals. Leo Deets who was batting champion with an average of about .460 will also get an award. Speeches and games were also part of the fun program last night.

BROTHERLY "LOVE"

Clarence Strub and Dannie Strub (the names are no coincidence, 'cause they are brothers) met on the Plum Hollow golf course yesterday to decide which should continue in the fateful Class C division of the current golf tournament. After being even up on the first nine holes, Clarence won 3 up. Their scores: Clarence—466 655 655—48 and 546 545 54—43 for 91. Dannie—455 766 564—48 and 455 766 564—47 for 95.

THURSDAY NIGHTERS

Bowling teams which have signed up to compete in the Thursday night Commercial League at the Dixon Recreation are: The Round-Up, Sparky's Fenders, Dixon Telegraph, Coca Cola, Cahill's Electric, National Tea, Reynolds Wire and Budweiser Gardens. There'll be just about the same old gang as fought through the 1940-41 wars.

SWIMMING TALENT WILL HELP

Ayres Davies who made an outstanding record as a swimmer while attending Beloit college a few seasons back, may be able to show the boys of Uncle Sam's Marines a thing or two about keep afloat when he's out to join the Marines in three weeks.

BATTLE FOR GOLF TITLE AT ROCHELLE

Owen Lamb and Bud Sticking, top-notch golfers at Rochelle, will meet Sunday for the men's championship of the Rochelle Country club. They will tee off at 9 o'clock in the morning and a large gallery of fans is expected to follow their fairway fortunes. The winner of the 36-hole match will be awarded the trophy by President L. S. Argall at the six o'clock dinner in the evening.

FIREMAN BURNS MAPLES

Seen on the alleys of the Dixon Recreation yesterday afternoon were Fireman Bill Cinnamon and wife who were testing out the maples. Bill is a veteran kegger while Mrs. Cinnamon is among the beginners. Fireman Bill leaves Sunday for Shell Lake, Wis., where his specialty will be confined solely to the large members of the finny tribe.

ADVANTAGES OF LIFE IN THE ARMY

Frank L. Randall of Plum Hollow golf course has extended an invitation to all army men home on furloughs to play free of charge at the public course. The invitation will carry into 1942 also. One of the soldiers now playing at the links is Bob Krug who is enjoying a 20-day furlough from his duties at Scott Field. Bob, you know, was runner-up in the recent field tournament and plays master golf.

ASSISTANT ON THE GRIDIRON

"Butch" Shoat who attended the University of Wisconsin and who expects to return for the second semester, is now assisting Coach Lindell with the football squad at the high school. "Butch" learned his game under C. B. and is an enthusiastic helper. He looks on the prospects of the 1941 squad as being excellent and admires the fellows' eagerness to learn and their pepper.

RIDIN' AROUND IN THE RAIN

What was scheduled as a "moonlight trail ride" turned into a damp evening for Dixon's teamsters last night. But no amount of "cats and dogs" could stop the riders. Following a steak fry at the Dickey Riding academy, they set out in the rain for a five-mile jaunt to Hazelwood. Those on the trail were: Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hubert, Mr. and Mrs. John Roe, Lucy Roe and John Roe, Jr., T. J. Burke, Pat and Joan Risley, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickey, Michael Coffey and Arthur Keithman.

LIFE BEGINS AT 90

For John "Dad" Ford life begins at 90 (or thereabouts). Yesterday "Dad" and his son, Bill, went down Tampico-way for some dove hunting. Although that neck of the woods is reported to be "infested" with doves, they got only "back". But it still takes plenty of get-up when you've seen 96 dove seasons come and go.

TO AURORA TONIGHT

Members of the Williams DeSoto bowling team will go to Aurora tonight for a match game at the Classic Bowling Lanes. It is one of the first match games of the season.

"ALABAMA WOOD-CHOPPER"

L. H. McClendon is taking a lot of good-natured razzing at Plum Hollow these days. It seems that a couple of days ago McClendon's ball landed close to a tree on No. 6 fairway and in an effort to blast it into the open, he snipped his wooden-shafted club in two. And now they listen to his tale of woe in southern accents and call him the "Alabama Wood-Chopper."

BOWLERS ON VACATION

Two of the city's top bowlers, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Klein were packing last night for a three weeks trip through the west. They'll be back too late for the opening of the kegging season, but they'll catch up, never fear.

"GOOD LUCK, COACH"

Don Nicklaus who is now stationed with the United States Marine Corps at San Diego, Calif., writes to Coach C. B. Lindell with a swell pepper-upper for the coming season. Says Don: "Well, here it is and another year has rolled around for the best of sports, football. And I'm very

Yanks Clinch Flag at Earliest Date in League History

CUBS UPSET THE CARDS IN TWIN BILL YESTERDAY

Eastern Fans Expect Subway Series For 1941 Crown

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Today's best advice for baseball fans is to get your nickels ready for a subway series—the New York Yankees have clinched the American League pennant and the Brooklyn Dodgers have been handed the National League lead on a big, brimming platter.

The Yanks bombed their way to their fifth championship in six years yesterday by smashing the Boston Red Sox, 6-3, with a 10-hit assault on two of Boston's best pitchers. Dick Newsome and Mickey Harris, while Atley Donald was holding the Red Soxers in check on five safeties.

The New Yorkers thus achieved their 91st victory against 45 defeats for a 20-game lead over the Chicago White Sox—who regained exclusive possession of second place through the crumpling of the Red Sox.

The triumph, which put the Yanks out of reach of all rivals, clinched the pennant at the earliest date in American League history.

All this was no surprise to anyone. The noise like distant thunder heard in the major leagues yesterday was the St. Louis Cardinals crashing in a doubleheader at Chicago, 3-0 and 4-3.

Golden Opportunity

The Redbirds were presented with the same kind of golden opportunity Brooklyn had fumbled on Wednesday. On that day St. Louis was rained out and the Dodgers had a chance to take charge of the senior circuit by padding the last-place Phillies in a doubleheader. Brooklyn divided the contests and left the Cards on top the league.

Yesterday it was Brooklyn that was rained into idleness and the Cardinals who played a doubleheader with the same huge reward at stake. But they not only muffed the opportunity, their double defeat dropped them one full game back of Brooklyn.

The Cardinals started two of their finest pictures, Lon Warneke, fresh from his no-hitter at Cincinnati, and the skillful Mort Cooper, but each had to be removed in the fourth inning.

Claude Passeau, a great clutch hurler for the sixth-place Cubs shut-out St. Louis, 3-0, on five hits in the opener. Chicago collected one run in the first, one in the second and another in the fourth and the no-hit relief pitching of Max Lanier and Howard Krist from that point on was not sufficient to change the outcome.

Bitter Battle

The nightcap was a bitter battle that went 11 innings and was decided by the Cardinals' most glaring weakness—uncertain fielding. The Redbirds made five errors, and on the last outfielder Don Padgett dropped a fly ball to let in the winning run after Stan Hack had walked and gone to third on a single by Lou Stringer. The score was 4-3.

Cooper was wild at the start and let the Cubs score single runs in each of the first three innings. St. Louis again received fine relief pitching to no avail, Howard Pollet and Lanier hurling seven scoreless innings.

Paul Erickson went the route for the Cubs and, after giving St. Louis two runs in the second, allowed only one other tally—a homer by Johnny Mize in the sixth season in the second for Chicago.

The Pittsburgh Pirates closed the gap between them and the third-place Reds to a half-game by beating Cincinnati again, 4-0, before rain halted play in the last of the fifth. Rip Sewell held the world champions to one hit over this abbreviated distance while the Pirates pelted Bucky Walters for five.

Bob Feller finally got his 22nd triumph, but it took a three-run rally in the tenth inning by his Cleveland Indians to nose out Detroit, 7-6. The Tigers scored twice in their half of the tenth.

much disappointed that I can not be on hand to see the boys take to the gridiron again. So to a good coach, the best of luck again this year. I hope to be able to hear that Dixon has won another conference again this year, which I have no doubt will be done. So I hope you and Winger have the best of luck through the 1941 season." Don, while in high school here, was an outstanding center on Coach Lindell's varsity team.

Sports Roundup

By SID FEDER

(Pinch-hitting for Eddie Brietz) New York, Sept. 5.—(The Special News Service)—Not since wronged Getchell and Fifth-Down Friesell has there been a blast such as the sports writers are letting loose on the new collegiate grid substitution rule. The pros used it in the All-Star contests here and in Chicago, and showed just how foolish the unlimited subs can make a game look. In the one here the other night, one of the New York Giants was in and out of the game 17 times—and there were so many guys running on and off the field that the officials were thinking of sending for a traffic cop.

Hot Hash

There'll be some news busting in the next week or two about a certain major league franchise. Joe Louis' whole fistic family is burned up at guys who think that the Bomber's slipping because he sought a postponement for the first time in his career. And Co-manager Julian Black comes right out in meeting with the prediction that Joe'll stiffen Lou Nova—but good. Curly Lambeau took one look at Howie Yeager, who graduated from Santa Barbara to the N. Y. Pro Giants, and tabbed him the best open-field runner the National League has seen.

Cuos have their eyes on Otto Denning, the first baseman-catcher at Minneapolis.

Dis-A and Dat-A

The golf rules are so involved that Usga Prexy Harold Pierce had to have Secretary Joe Dey along on the Bud Ward-Pat Abbott National Amateur final last week at Omaha to iron out any stickler that might have come up. And you can sue Hank Ladd, the movie comic, for saying that in the fight game, one man's Mitt is another man's poison. Don't shoot, we'll go quietly. Jimmy Conzelmann wants to trade in his pro coaching job for an army captaincy if and when we go to war.

How about those Great Lakes navy days, Jimmy?

Hit-and-Run

Clenston tub-thumpers advise you not to jump at conclusions just because Blocking Back Craig, Tailback Butler and Tackle Wood are all first-named Marion. They are known around the campus as Hawk, Butch and Footsie. There's been lotsa talk that Gerry Priddy, who started out as a second sacker, will be given a whirl on first by the Yanks. But the real low-down is that he's being groomed to take a crack at third if Red Rolfe looks bad again in '42.

Kiyoshi Nankama, the latest Hawaiian swim sensation—he won two AAU champs this year—is headed for Ohio State. What with Joe Louis and Tony Zale both arriving today, this village is no place for an amateur to go around sticking his chin out this morning.

DAVE CARLSON FACES UPHILL FIGHT IN DEFENCE OF CROWN IN NATIONAL RIFLE TOURNEY

Camp Perry, O., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Dave Carlson youthful national small bore rifle champion from New Haven, Conn., faced an uphill fight today to retain his laurels, but Harry Reeves, Detroit's straight-shooting policeman and holder of the national pistol title looked like a repeater.

With four of the eight matches leading to the national small bore rifle crown out of the way, Carlson was a point behind Jack Lacy, another New Haven crackshot.

Reeves however, with a score of 859 of 900 in three 45 caliber pistol events, was assured the national crown with that weapon and he held a 12-point edge over his nearest foe as the hundreds of marksmen headed into the nine remaining 22 and 38 caliber events making up the championship aggregate.

Scoring a perfect 400 with 33 shots in the small X ring, K. W. Snowhill, 21, of Quincy, Ill., whipped a field of 485 in the 100-yard-all-comers metallic sights matches. He beat out some of the best shots in the national.

Byron Nelson Is Perfectly Satisfied With His Second-at-the-Quarter Spot In Tam O'Shanter Golf Tournament

Chicago, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The Whirlaway of professional golf, slim Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., was perfectly satisfied with his second-at-the-quarter position as the field headed for the halfway pole today in the $11,000 Tam O'Shanter Open championship.

Nelson was not the pacemaker as play began in the second round of this richest tournament of the year. That spot was occupied by Leonard Dodson, 29 year old professional from Kansas City. But the quiet-spoken Nelson, one of the greatest stretch finishers the pro sport ever has produced, had a 67 round he believed was all the start needed in his quest for the tourney's top prize of $2,000.

Dodson started the second round with a seven under par 65 as the result of a great performance yesterday which set a new competitive record for the Tam O'Shanter layout.

Nelson, whose finishing ability has carried him to several major championships in a manner comparable to the stretch-running talent of the Calumet Farm's 3-year-old turf champion, Whirlaway, was two shots back at 67. Out in 34, he came back in 33, remarking as he left the 18th green "that round was one of the truest I've ever played and if my game holds I'll be in there all the way."

Plenty of Competition

Both he and Dodson, however, were certain to have plenty of competition for the $2,000 and 29 other cash awards.

At 68 was Johnny Bulla of Chicago, with no fewer than five players in the 69 bracket, among them Ralph Guldahl, twice former National Open champion, and Dick Metz of Chicago.

Vic Ghezzi, the Professional Golfers Association titleholder, was working on a two under par 70, one shot under the first round total turned in by Craig Wood, National Open champion, Lawson Little, former National Open king, was at 72, a shot lower than the opening round aggregate registered by Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., the year's leading money winner who has finished in the money for his last 54 tournaments. In all, 23 players bettered par 72.

By tonight the field will be cut more than one-half, for only the 85 low scorers in the first two rounds will be eligible for tomorrow's 18-hole program and the windup 18 holes on Sunday.

WATERLOO CLINCHES FIFTH PLACE IN THREE-EYE LOOP

(By The Associated Press)

Rain lopped five games off the next-to-last day of play in the Three-Eye League last night, with two double-headers and a single game being rained out. But in the two games that were played—a twin bill between Waterloo and Moline—the Iowa club clinched fifth place with 8 to 7 and 5 to 1 victories.

The season ends tonight with Springfield at Cedar Rapids, Decatur at Clinton, pennant-winning Evansville at Madison and Moline at Waterloo. Playoffs among the top four teams—Evansville, Cedar Rapids, Decatur and Springfield—began Sunday.

Waterloo, its hold on fifth place endangered by Clinton prior to last night's game, climbed 2½ games above the sixth-place club with its twin triumph over the ploys. The first game, featured by first inning homers by Stacy for Moline and Silver and Hadjuk for Waterloo, went 10 innings. Richards also Homering for Moline in the third.

The White Hawks took the second contest in seven innings with a two-run spurt in the first and three more runs in the fourth.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The University of Chicago is getting along quite well without intercollegiate football, President Robert M. Hutchins reports.

He said that when the sport was abandoned at the end of the 1939 season some people feared the school's enrollment would suffer and alumni interest would cool. But he added:

"As far as I can see, neither of these fears has been realized. Enrollment has been well maintained. Alumni interest is, I believe, at a high pitch than at any time since the foundation of the university."

GRANT VOWS THIS IS HIS SWAN SONG IN TENNIS 'RACKET'

Meets Schroeder For Quarterfinal Match at Forest Hills

By GAYLE TALBOT

New York, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Win or lose in his quarterfinal match with young Ted Schroeder today at Forest Hills, Byran Grant, Jr., that great little campaigner from Atlanta, vows this is his swan song in the National Tennis championships.

If he is in earnest then it is farewell to the most colorful competitor of a tennis generation, and goodbye to one of the greatest players who never won the national championship. He has been a semifinalist three times; never a finalist.

"Whatever I do against Schroeder, this is my last swing around the grass-court circuit," declared the vest-pocket warrior as he watched the rain come down in sheets and cancel yesterday's program.

"I've had a good time for a long time, and now I'm going to attend to my insurance business. Maybe I'll want to play in some tournaments around home or down in Florida if I figure it won't interfere with making a living. But I'm through with the big time."

"Even if you should reach the finals, Bitzy?" he was asked. "You know, you never played better tennis in your life than you have this week."

"Life Begins at 30"

"That's right, isn't it?" he grinned. "I guess life begins at 30 for me."

That is the little guy's age and this is as good a time as any to pay him a tribute or two.

It must have been about 1930 when the boys came home from the National Clay court championship and were grousing that they had been trimmed by a little termite who "didn't have a thing except a pair of rubber legs and a warped racket." That turned out to be Grant, and he's been at it ever since. There's scarcely a tennis immortal who hasn't at one time or another taken a wholly unexpected beating from the "atom."

He weighs about 120, clothed, and needs a cushion under him to see out of a train window. He serves a tennis ball mildly, and his returns are medium-pace, to be charitable. But one of the treats of the current tournament has been to watch him take the impetuous hell-fire youngsters, feel around thoughtfully until he found their weaknesses, and then beat them at his leisure.

There might not be another such player for a long time. And whatever Schroeder does to him today, what will you bet he isn't back next year?

TOM HARMON MAY BE CALLED INTO ARMY SERVICE SOON

Middlewest Is Called Too Complacent About Situation Facing U. S.

St. Louis, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The middle west is too complacent relative to the situation now facing our country, Rep. Jennings
Randolph (D-W. Va.) told the National Federation of Post Office Clerks last night.

Describing the attitude as dangerous, Randolph added:
"I do not criticize any congressional votes, but I recall that out of 120 congressmen representing 12 midwestern states, only 12 voted in favor of extension of services of our armed forces."

Forbid Red Shorts on Tennis Courts

Seeing red is Mercedes Marlowe after the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association declined her entry in the national singles at Forest Hills, N. Y., because, says she,
she had planned to wear red silk shorts. She had driven all the way from Los Angeles to play, too.
